PROPOSED EXCURSION.

At the anual session of the Pacific Coast Press Association, held in June last, it was proposed to have an excursion in the Spring to the Southern part of the State, and the matter was favorably regarded by all present. In furtherance of the proposition, the Executive Committee has commenced to make the arrangements, as we learn from the Alameda Encinal, for a grand editorial excursion about the first of March, 1881; the route to take in the San Gabriel Valley, the Southern California Citrus Fair, at Riverside, thence run down to Tucson, Arizona Territory, and on the return trip, spend a day at the Horticulture Citrus Fair, at Los Angeles; thence back to San Francisco, being gone about a week. This is the first excursion of the kind ever proposed on this Coast, and it will no doubt be enjoyed by a numerous company of the fraternity, and we hope to be of the number. The details will be arranged as soon as possible. The Committee are Scipio Craig, President of the Association, late of the Colton Semi-Tropic; W. H. Barnes, of the San Francisco Call; L. M. Holt, of the Press and Horticulturist; F. K. Krauth, of the Alameda Encinal, and E. A. Weed, of the Lassen Advocate.

MAYOR KALLOCH, of San Francisco, in one of his recent lectures referred to the "dead" Democracy in this strain: "I have been hearing that the Democratic party was dead so long, that it could never rally again, and all that sort of thing, that it is getting a little monotonous. I see that the old corpse comes up smiling at every new election, and evinces remarkable agility for one that has been killed so often and been dead so long. And I predict that whoever lives four years will see it, under the same old name, not the least disheartened by misfortune, its banners gaily streaming in the wind, entering the lists for another contest with its ancient enemy. It must be remembered that political victory and defeat are relative terms, and that they have an importance in the smoke and din of conflict that soon wears away."

THE Charlotte (Mich.) Leader thus refreshes the memory of it's readers: Good times, low prices, big wages, plenty of work and fun galore, was what Republican stump speakers and Republican papers predicted in the event of a Republican victory in November last. The victory was accomplished but the balance of the goods are not being delivered. Hard times are oppressing the poor, prices on several of the necessary commodities of life have advanced, wages have taken a downward tendency, work is scarce and the fun comes only to those who have plenty of money to pay for it with.

A GENTLEMAN in the habit of occasionally using intoxicating drinks took up an able temperance address and sat down in his family to peruse it. He read it through without saying a word; when he had got through he exclaimed, "This man is a fool!" He then read it through again, and when he had finished it a second time he exclaimed, "This man is a fool or I am!" A third time he read it with still greater care, and as he finished the last sentence exclaimed, "I was a fool!" and never touched a drop of ardent spirits afterward.

THE marriage of Sir Thomas Hesketh, a British Baronet, and Miss Flora Sharon, daughter of Senator Sharon, occurred at Belmont on Thursday evening, causing a great sensation in Gotham. The Examiner's account of the affair occupied over eleven columns of very fine print, seeming to be complete in every detail, more than two columns of the account being occupied with the names of the invited guests.

A POOR, ragged lad came to a ragged school in Ireland—a miserable little Arab of the streets, with scarcely a trace of the child in his face. One day, however, he appeared radiant in a new suit of clothes. "How is this, Mike?" asked the teacher. "Oh, sir," he said, "sure daddy's a teetotaler; and I never stopped till I brought him to the meetings, and he signed the pledge; and look at me now, sir."

THE Commissioner of Internal Revenue has served notice upon distillers that they are making too much whiskey. Nov. 1st, 1880, the amount of whiskey on hand was 32,640,000 gallons, an increase of 13,400,000 gallons since July 1st, 1879; and states that in the event of a reduction of the tax holders would be in danger of loss.

WE have stated that the reason we dropped our Weekly quarto "patent inside" sheet was because it was too expensive, but the Mail persists in trying to make its readers believe it was cheaper than the present system. The Mail editor is not a printer or he could see with half an eye that the matter is just as we have stated it.

THE Nevada Herald makes this snow report: There is between five and six feet of snow at Eureka; about three feet at Moore's Flat; five feet at Downieville; ten feet at the Black Jack mine; four feet above Snow Tent, on the Eureka road, and it is said to be 13 feet in some parts of Meadow Lake district.

TWO MEN fired simultaneously at each other in a Salt Lake bar-room and the bullets came into collision. There could be no doubt of this, for one bullet dropped to the floor midway between the antagonists, who were ten feet apart, and the other was turned upward toward the ceiling, while both were flattened.

ENGLAND has now annually thirty millions of trade with Mexico that of right belongs to us. With the completion of a railroad into Mexico, we ought to secure this trade, and double and quadruple it in a very short time.

SECRETARY THOMPSON has agreed to accept the Presidency of the American branch of the Panama Canal Company, at a salary of $25,000 a year. His resignation as Secretary of the Navy is expected soon.

THE population of California is given at 864,836. The State will hereafter be entitled to five Congressmen. Under the new apportioument, each District would contain as nearly as possible 173,000.

CONGRESSMAN PAGE has introduced a joint resolution providing that the anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus shall be observed as a legal holiday in the District of Columbia.

A RELIGIOUS paper says that American preachers receive $12,000,000 annually, lawyers six times as much and the national liquor bill is some $200,000,000.

IT is announced that the Epigram, a daily paper lately started in the Argonaut office, presumably by Mr. Frank M. Pixley, has ceased publication.

HAYES had 250,000 votes less than a majority in 1876. Garfield will have 300,000 less than an absolute majority of the American voters.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

[Special Correspondence of the Democrat.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13th, 1880.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—The second week of the session opens about where the first one should have opened. It was unfortunate, I think, that the Democrats permitted the discussion in the House of any subject with a political bearing. The people generally, don't care just now for politics. It may be the attempt to pass the Morgan electoral resolution was well enough, but persistence in the attempt when its passage was found to be impossible was a blunder. When the score or so of absent Democrats get here, so that the Republicans can not break up a quorum, the resolution can be passed if they should then wish to pass it.

To-morrow, if possible, Mr. Wood will get up his refunding bill, and on that there will be very many speeches, some favoring one rate of interest, some another, and some favoring payment of the maturing bonds as fast as possible from surplus revenues of the Government. The idea of the men who favor this method is of course, that all the $700,000,000 in bonds could be paid off long before the new bonds for the amount would become payable, and they desire to reduce the bonded debt as fast as may be, and extinguish it as soon as possible. They think too, there would be greater economy in public expenditures if this course were to be pursued.

The two appropriation bills—Fortifications and Pension—will pass the House promptly. The former is for an inconsiderable amount and the latter will cause a debate. The general subject of the pension laws, will, however, be extensively discussed, and I shall not be surprised if the principle urged by the Commission on pensions, that testimony be taken in person before government officers, should become a part of the system. The increased expense of this to claimants would probably reduce fully one-half the hundred of cases now pushed to a final settlement.

There is considerably less opposition among Republicans to the passage at this session of a reapportionment bill. Every one sees that all the necessary information will be ready in season, and that prompt action will give representation of our population as now existing at least two years earlier than would be the case if the reapportionment bill were deferred beyond the session.

One can hardly name on his fingers the public men with whom Mr. Conkling has quarreled during his public life. His overbearing manner, the readiness with which he takes offense, while forever doing things needlessly offensive to others, keep him in continual personal antagonism with men of better heart and far more gentlemanly instincts than his. Senator Bayard is the last to provoke his ire. As is usually the case, Senator Conkling seems to be in the wrong. He refused to accept a denial, however clear and emphatic, of a public statement unless such denial shall be couched in language dictated by him. RENO.

Bingo, the Fire Dog.

[New York Sun.]

Fire Company 32, in John Street, has sustained a loss in the drowning of its old fire dog "Bingo," which causes the members to mourn with as sincere a sorrow as though one of their most popular men had died. The dog was of a kind and docile disposition, and was known from City Hall to the Battery by the truckmen and merchants who had seen him run before the fire engine, barking and clearing the way and doing the work of the advance fireman in a more thorough manner than any man could do it.

Bingo was drowned by order of Justice Murray of the Tombs Police Court. On Saturday evening the alarm bell of Engine 32 rang suddenly, and Bingo as usual jumped out in front of the engine house and tore around in a circle, barking furiously until the way was clear for the engine, when he started ahead down toward Water street. The truckmen, as they saw him coming, yelled to those in front: "Look out for Bingo!" and the street was cleared down to the river in a trice. The engine is run by steam, but the hose carriage is drawn by a horse, and this horse slipped on the corner of John and Front streets and fell on his side. The engine was around by Fulton street when Bingo discovered that the hose carriage had not turned the corner. He at once ran back to clear the way, when Edward Tapp, Jr., member of the firm of E. W. Tapp & Son, stepped in the way. The dog snapped at him, and inflicted a scratch wound on his right hand and at the second joint of the thumb. Mr. Tapp, fearful that he would be attacked by hydrophobia, applied to Justice Murray and procured an order demanding that the dog be killed at once.

Foreman Joseph McGill of "32" said to the reporter: "When young Tapp, who had known that dog and played with him for years, came down with the summons, I thought the boys would go wild. You're no idea how much we thought of Bingo. He'd been to every fire that we attended for five years, and knew as much as a man. Nobody around here would drown him. The policemen refused; every cartman and longshoreman refused; and even the chronic loafers around the corners and docks were not tempted by the offer of money to do the job. Mr. Tapp finally got a man who works for his father to tie a big rock about the poor dog's neck and pitch him into the river."

The Wills of Christ.

At one of the meetings held by Messrs. Moody and Sankey recently in San Francisco, "The Wills of Christ" was the subject of Mr. Moody's discourse. The first of Christ's wills, Mr. Moody said, was the following: "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Upon this text he talked for some time. The next of Christ's wills is in John, 6th chapter: "Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out," which, Mr. Moody held, was as broad as the world itself. The next "I will," Mr. Moody continued, is found in the Gospel of Luke. A leper came to him. A leper was an outcast. He could not enter his own home. If his wife should die he could not go to her funeral. He must stay outside of the city and cry "Unclean, unclean," so that no one should come near him. Well, this leper came to Jesus, saying: "If Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean." And the reply was: "I will; be thou clean." The leprosy of sin is far worse than that from which this man was suffering. But, if we go to Christ with the leper's prayer, He will cleanse us. As this man brought Christ only his leprosy, so we can bring only our sins. And they are just what the Savior wants.

The next "I will" I want to call your attention to is the "I will" of confession in Matthew: "Whosoever, therefore, shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before My Father which is in Heaven." No one can enjoy the peace of God who refuses to confess Christ. Another "I will" was given to those early fishermen. He said: "If you follow me I will make you fishers of men." This is the "I will" of service. The next "I will" we find in the sixth chapter of John: "I will raise him up at the last day." How blessed this is when we are called upon to bury our loved ones. I once looked through all the Gospels to get ideas for a funeral sermon, but I could not find any. The fact is the Lord Jesus broke up every funeral he went to, for He was the resurrection and the life. Again Christ says: "I will not leave you comfortless (that is, orphans). I will come to you and I will give you another comforter, to abide with you forever. Two other wills are: "I will that those whom Thou hast given me be with me where I am;" and, "I will come again and take you to Myself."

It Makes a Difference You Know.

It is the man with only one suit of clothes and a small salary, my son, who has to be polite and agreeable and a rigid, faultless observer of the strictest points and forms of etiquette. The man worth $50,000 may tramp on your corns, walk across your wife's train and eat pie with a knife, and it is all right; his standing in society isn't affected by it. But you—don't you on your present salary attempt to drink soup out of the side of your plate, if you want to marry an heiress. You can't afford to act that way just yet.

Destruction Caused by Hydraulic Mining.

About the year 1860 the sand began to appear from the canons, where it had paved its way down. It entered and filled the channels to the brim, and commenced to spread upon the bottoms on either side. The low levees, formerly adequate to confine flood-waters, were overtopped, and the river began to flow upon a constantly raising bed of sand. Each year the levees had to be raised, to cause the floods and sand to sweep farther down; and with each year, one after another farmer gave up, as the water overtopped his levee and buried his land in the sand. Upon the south side of the Yuba, not a single farm remains upon the river bottom. The whole reach of alluvial bottom is covered in coarse sand, from ten to sixteen feet in depth, which either lies in barren sand tracts or is covered with a growth of willows and cottonwoods, over which the river spreads and threatens to swerve aside upon the redlands. Upon the north side, Marysville alone remains, surrounded by levees, with the water above the level of her streets, and compelled to pump the seepage water into the river. The original channel of the Bear River is obliterated, and the sandy level over which it flows is from seven to ten feet high above the small portion of its former bottom, still preserved for a few miles upon its northern side. The State Engineer states that the Yuba has been filled at Smartsville dumps one hundred and twenty-five feet, at the Yuba mill and mining shaft, eighty feet—both places where the river is about leaving the hills; and at its mouth, some sixteen miles below, the low-water plane has been raised from thirteen to sixteen feet. The land alone, destroyed upon the Bear, Yuba, and Feather, he has estimated at $2,597,335; but his estimate is low in many cases, and he instances an orchard of 640 acres, formerly considered worth $640,000, "whose tree-tops are now found above the sand with which they have been covered," whose former value he estimates at a hundred dollars an acre only, and for whose present value fifty cents an acre, he says, would be a liberal estimate. The losses in crops, improvements, etc., he says, are not capable of definite estimation, but are probably several times the more tangible loss in lands. The property in Marysville has depreciated, since 1860, from $3,823,518 to $1,703,900 in 1880, according to the Assessor's figures. Nor does this represent the total loss, since the population and property ought to have increased greatly in twenty years. Four times the loss of land, or $10,390,540, is allowable at the least, according to his figures, for losses of lands and improvements. Add to this, $2,000,000, the perceptible depreciation in Marysville, and the total loss to the region and to individuals has been only approached. There is still the depreciation in other adjacent property, money sunk year after year in unsuccessful levees, and the loss from a prospective development arrested.—John H. Durst in Californian for January.

Spreading the Light.

On the 12th instant Mr. Henry George, of this State, delivered an address before the Spread-the-Light Club, of Brooklyn. The objects of the club are said to be the diffusion of knowledge on social and scientific subjects among the masses. There was a large attendance to listen to Mr. George, whose address is reported by the N. Y. Sun in substance as follows: "The name of the club, he said, embodied the great duty of the hour. The many injustices which prevail among men were the fruits of their own ignorance, and there could be no higher duty than to find the truth and spread the light. Until this is done it would be useless to attempt anything. In countries where workmen were ground down to a mere pittance it was impossible for a republic to exist. In our own country the monstrous inequality between the classes is becoming greater every year. The world has never before seen such an aristocracy as exists in our great railroad magnates to-day. They are citizens, but they wield a greater power than has been held by many kings. These things confront us to-day, and lay directly across the path of the republic. It is to discuss these questions that the society has been organized. Mankind must mount up into the ideas of social justice, or follow the path that every preceding nation has followed to anarchy and ruin. The time has come when our civilization must take that move or go down. The speaker spoke strongly in support of the abolition of private property in land. The land question, he averred, was not an Irish question, but the fight of the times for the regeneration of mankind. This was the great cause of inequality.

A Cliff Town.

[From the Washington Star.]

James Stephenson, of the United States Geological Survey, District of New Mexico, arrived here last night, bringing news of an important discovery he has made recently in the course of his labors. While near Santa Fe, New Mexico, recently, he was informed by Indians that there were within a few miles some ancient caves that he would find interesting. Guided by them, he found, forty miles from Santa Fe, ten miles from the Rio Grande, a cliff town composed of caves in the rocky side of a canyon thirty miles long, never before visited by a white man. He was so much impressed with the greatness of his discovery that for a moment he was scarcely able to speak. When he did, it was in terms of wonder and admiration. This town, or succession of excavations in the solid rock for thirty miles, is one of the largest, if not the largest, ever discovered. The houses are dug out of the rock-side to a depth of from fifteen to twenty feet. Apparently, they were excavated with stone implements. They are almost inaccessible from the plains. Mr. Stephenson, however, managed to clamber up the rocky precipice and entered and examined several of the houses. He found in them a number of articles that he thought remains of their first possessors. He will probably prepare a report upon the cliff town, as he calls it. A scientist who has traveled in that region and visited other caves and excavations of a similar kind, says he is disposed to believe that that they have been tenanted within modern times by Indians at war with each other seeking safety and advantage over their enemies. He thinks the remains found there are the remains of the things these belligerents have used, eaten or worn, and not the relics of the first owners of the rock houses.

Keep Your Agreements.

One reason why many people do not get along in the world is, because they cannot be depended upon. They do not keep their agreements. When they are weighed in the balance of actual affairs, they are too often found wanting. They are seldom on time. The workman who is always on hand at the appointed time and place, and does his work according to agreement, is sure to get along. To a young man starting in life, the habit of punctuality is worth more than a thousand dollars cash capital, although a thousand dollars is not apt to be despised. The trustworthiness of the faithful workman produced money, but the untrustworthiness of the unfaithful one causes him to lose money. This is an everlasting principle. He who would be permanently prosperous must keep his engagements.

Birthdays.

Let the birthday of each member of the family be remembered when it comes. Let there be something out of the ordinary routine in the arrangement of the table—pies made as Annie likes them best, one of Frank's favorite plum puddings, or Mary's special likening, a loaf of gingercake, or a wonderful lemon pie, such as only "mamma" can make. There must be presents. Sometimes people may think that they cannot be afforded; but reflect. The little one needs shoes, dresses, aprons and many other articles. Purchase one or more for the birthday; it will seem just as much a present to her as though she was not obliged to have it. Next come books, a knitted wrap and a pair of skates—should the birthday occur in winter—a pretty little school satchel, etc. Encourage the little ones to give to one another, and to remember father's and mother's birthday, too.

Grass Valley should especially be glad in holiday times. This town is the oldest one in the mining districts of the Pacific Coast. Within easy shot of the Free Lance office gold in

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

[Special Correspondence of the Democrat.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 20th, 1880.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—The electoral count resolution being out of the way, the House went to work with a will, and have managed to dispose of two of the general appropriation bills, the fortification bill, and the pension bill. The first is one of the smallest appropriation bills as a general thing, but this year it has been cut down to such an extent that one would hardly recognize it, did he not run across several familiar names. It is a matter of universal comment, how utterly insignificant are the items of appropriations made for the different fortifications, improvement of guns, etc. This may be economy and statesmanship, but when it is admitted by the House that the sums designated for the different purposes are entirely inadequate to carry out any practical enlargment or strengthening of the one or the improvement of the other, such legislation becomes a farce and had much better be left undone. The pension bill is large, but with this bill there can be no cheese paring there are so many pensions allowed, there will probably be so many more allowed this year, there is so much arrearage, hence, the estimates allow of but little alteration, and as both of the great parties have been making love to the soldiers for the last few years, the only strife there is, is as to which has the honor or is entitled to the credit of having been most liberal, and of having made the laws so loosely that six millions are annually paid out on fraudulent pensions. The consequence is the pension bill, with its fifty millions of appropriations, passed without much challenge from either party. The Senate has this week been engaged principally on the calender, and have worked off a few bills from last session. The educational bill has been the chief bone of contention for the last two or three days. The Democrats are afraid it means a covert attack on their favorite and pet State Rights doctrine, and the Republicans afraid that after awhile, the colored brother if educated, will get too smart for them. The only sensible speech that has been delivered during the debate, was that made by Senator Brown, of Georgia. He left his State Rights in Georgia, and he told both Democrats and Republicans some plain, honest truths; in fact the Senator may be called independent. With Brown, Fair, Mahone and Davis in the future Senate, the two parties being so equally balanced, independent politics will be likely to create some changes of a healthy sort, and our legislation will perhaps partake less of the stock-jobbing character. The waste of time at the commencement of the session on that most useless, at this time, piece of attempted legislation—the electoral count—and the long-drawn out holiday recess will necessitate an extra session. Let us have a Civil Service Reform, but let it commence at the capitol, among the law makers, it is most needed there.

A Yelotte in Missouri.

OAK GROVE, JACKSON CO. MO., Dec. 18, 1880.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—How rapidly time flies! It has been three months since I, in company with my family, boarded the train which was to carry us from the Pacific Slope far across the Rocky Mountains into the Mississippi Valley; yet it seems as but yesterday. But the flight of time always appears more rapid when we are passing it pleasantly and agreeably among old-time friends and relations. Then the siren song of pleasure and enjoyment lends its most charming strains, and time glides off unconsciously. And especially is this true when a person is visiting among his "wife's people" and enjoying their hospitalities. The people are industrious and thrifty, and apparently abreast with the times in the latest improvements and conveniences. The agricultural implements are numerous and of the first order, being adapted to the demands of a long-settled and comparatively wealthy country. The system of public schools is good; the several religious denominations are well represented; and society in general appears to be moving onward under the guiding hand of intelligence and morality. The political campaign, local and national, having ended, the people are turning their attention to business. The result of the State election was to put in a corps of Democratic officers by about 50,000 majority, Thos. T. Crittenden, Governor.

By means of the Missouri Emigration Society, with headquarters at St. Louis, the tide of emigration which has hitherto pressed on into Kansas and the far West, is now stopping in this State to settle her untaken lands and to develop her vast mining and agricultural resources.

One of the most marked features of difference between here and California is in the climate. Here the wind sometimes changes from one point of the compass to the opposite in the course of a single day, suddenly bringing great extremes of temperature. One day a change of 53° Fah. took place. The weather is alternately warm and cold, wet and dry, clear and blustering. Considering this variableness of the weather, it is remarkable that the health is as good as it is.

SIMON and Joseph Kline, father and son of Canton, O., both wanted to marry their housekeeper. The old man owned all the property, and the woman gave him the preference on that account, assuring Joseph that she would marry him as soon as she became a widow. But the son had a plan for getting her and the estate without delay. He poisoned his father, first using so much arsenic that the result was not fatal, and finally producing death with morphine.

COLONEL MCCLURE of the Philadelphia Times, who is now writing letters to his paper from the South, informs the people of the North that without a solid Republican and colored vote, repudiation would be utterly defeated in Virginia, and suggests that General Garfield and Northern Republicans can, if they are so minded, do much to break up "this disgraceful and unnatural compact."

During the recent severe storms in Germany the subterranean lines of telegraph have proved so much better than the others that the German Government now proposes asking the Reichstag for authority to greatly extend the underground system.

The Chinese Treaty.

WASHINGTON, December 26.—Official advices have been received by mail from Pekin. The Emperor of China consents that whenever, in the opinion of the United States, the coming hither of Chinese laborers, or their residence in this country, affect, or threaten to affect, injuriously, the interests of the United States, then the United States Government may regulate, limit or suspend such [illegible] residence in such manner as the [illegible] may deem proper. The Next House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Edward McPherson, Secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee and Clerk of the House of Representatives, to-day figures it out as follows: Republicans 148, regular Democrats 135, Readjuster Democrats 2, Greenbackers 8. Total 293. In the estimate of 148 Republicans McPherson counts one from New Hampshire yet to be elected to succeed Farr (Republican), deceased, although the district is very close and the result somewhat doubtful. McPherson says the list is now well defined, and he is entirely confident that the foregoing estimate will be found correct.

Troops Ordered to the Front.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—A battalion of the Grenadier Guards has been ordered to get ready for special service in Ireland. The garrison for Ireland will number 30,000 men of all arms by the 1st of January.

Chinese Exodus.

JAMESBURG (N. J.) Dec. 23.—Some time ago the Chinese workers in the shirt factories here struck. The factory people replaced them by American laborers, 300 finding employment in them. The Chinese quarters outside the town have been abandoned, all the occupants leaving the place.

Progress of the Northern Pacific.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Fred Billings, President of the Northern Pacific railroad, told a Times interviewer yesterday that General Anderson, Engineer-in-Chief, just returned from the Yellowstone Valley, has already contracted for ties and timber for 200 miles on that division, and his instructions are to accomplish in the coming year the largest possible amount of mileage construction up the Yellowstone Valley, with a view of closing up the central gap of 825 miles, and having the road running through in 1883.

Three Men Killed.

BOSTON, December 24th.—Three men—John Sher, Chester Morse and J. Bruce—while attempting to cross the Boston and Albany Railway track in a wagon near Walker's Grove, Natick, Mass., were struck by a train and instantly killed.

The British Grain Trade.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—The Mark Lane Express, which, on account of the holidays, is published to-day instead of Monday next, in its review of the British grain trade for the present week, says the land is generally too wet for cultivation. Samples at hand show a very large proportion of the English wheat crop injured by wet in stack. Wheat in good condition sells readily. Prices of red are low. The sale of inferior English red is very difficult. The yield of the English wheat crop of 1880 is turning out to be less than any of the published estimates.

The Trouble in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Dec. 26.—A circular of the Magistrates in reply to Forster's circular states that the Magistrates are unable to carry out the law, owing to terrorism.

A farmer's house at Portadown has been maliciously burned.

The Monaghan Anti-League Association has issued a manifesto calling on loyal men to combine for mutual defense, and to combat the hateful teachings of the Land League.

The Land League meeting which was to be held in Barris, in Ossory, Sunday, was prohibited. Both military and police were present to enforce the prohibition.

There was a riot Saturday in Dublin between soldiers and civilians. The police separated the combatants.

Disastrous Floods.

NICOSIA, Dec. 26.—Sixty houses have been destroyed by floods at Limasol. Eighty persons were killed, and damage to the amount of $70,000 done.

Trouble at Socorro, N. M.

SANTA FE, Dec. 28.—A very serious disturbance exists at Socorro, N. M. The authorities refused to arrest the murderer of Conklin, editor of the Socorro Sun, and the citizens, finding no recourse at law, have arrested and hold by force the Sheriff and four others, including the murderer of Conklin. A rescue of the prisoners is threatened, and bloodshed is imminent. Grave results may be expected. All the women and children have been moved out of town. The Americans and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe officers called on General Hatch for protection. Hatch ordered fifty soldiers from Wingate and a company of the Thirteenth Infantry from the town of Colorado to go to Socorro to protect Government property.

Anti-Chinese Action in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, December 29th.—A. M.—Relative to the Chinese action in Brooklyn, Alderman Donovan says: "What I want to be understood about most particularly, is my opposition to Chinese immigration. These Chinese are already swarming into our cities in alarmingly large numbers. We must guard against them if we can, or they will become our masters. They already monopolize a great proportion of the washing that was done by poor white women, who supported their children by that industry. These women are now in many instances compelled to live on the charity of others. I am opposed to the Chinese and to giving them any encouragement."

The Democratic Party in New York.

NEW YORK, December 28.—The mass meeting at Cooper Institute, under the auspices of the Brunswick Hotel Committee and Young Men's Democratic Club, was well attended to-night by those interested in the reorganization of the Democratic party in this State. Franklin Edson presided. Vice-Presidents occupied seats on the platform. Resolutions were then adopted declaring that the late defeat of the Democratic party could have been avoided and victory secured but for the unfortunate dissensions in its ranks in the city and county of New York. Hewitt reviewed the New York campaign, strongly denouncing Kelly and Tammany, and praising the Irving Hall Democracy. He predicted that the party would adhere to its principles without consulting expediency, and would begin a new career of victory and usefulness.

The Sprague Case.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Britton, counsel for Mrs. Sprague, says it was her earnest desire to spare her little daughters the shame of divorce proceeding on the present basis, and that he had several fruitless interviews with the Governor's personal friends to arrange for an amicable divorce on the ground of neglect to support.

Death of a Veteran.

WHEELING, December 28th.—Anthony Deiters, aged 93 died to-day. He fought with the great Napoleon through his campaigns. He was nine times wounded, witnessed the burning of Moscow, and was at Leipsic and Waterloo. He was in full vigor at the time of his death. He was one of the oldest Masons in the United States, having joined as a minor.

Too Big a Subsidy.

LONDON (Ont.), Dec. 28.—At a mass meeting here yesterday it was resolved that the proposal made by the Government and now before Parliament, to expend about $60,000,000 of money and to grant 25,000,000 of acres of choice land, worth at the estimate made by the Government last session $79,000,000, for the purpose, as alleged, of insuring the completion of the Pacific Railroad, is highly inexpedient and is calculated to prevent any considerable reduction in the present rate of excessive taxation.

A Help-Meet Indeed.

What a Farmer's Wife has done the Past Year—Good Advice to Others.

YOLO, YOLO CO., CAL., Dec. 28th, 1880.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—As you often hear from the farmers, and what they are doing, I thought it would not be amiss to tell you what a farmer's wife is doing:

I have sold this year since January 1st, five hundred pounds of butter, for which I received $141.36 (one hundred and forty-one dollars and thirty-six cents), and 350 dozen eggs (three hundred and fifty dozen) for which I received $81.94 (eighty-one dollars and ninety-four cents). I have sold poultry to the amount of $97.22 (ninety-seven dollars and twenty-two cents). Total—butter, eggs and poultry—$320.52.

Now, Mr. Editor, I have learned that it costs no more to keep good poultry than poor. I have succeeded in rearing a fine flock of Pekin ducks, but some person on Christmas Eve shot into them and killed four of them and crippled several more, and was too cowardly to let it be known. This is the first year I have kept an account, and I am satisfied that, owing to different causes, I have not made as much by one hundred dollars this year as heretofore. I tell you, Mr. Editor, the way the price of wheat is, the farmers' wives will have to come to their assistance. Yours truly,

MRS. WILLIAM HATCHER.

'WHAT! ROB A POOR MAN OF HIS BEER."

BY JOHN BARLEYCORN, JR.

What! rob a poor man of his beer,
And give him good victuals instead—
Your heart's very hard, sir, I fear,
Or at least you are soft in the head.

What! rob a poor man of his mug,
And give him a house of his own;
With kitchen and parlor so snug!—
'Tis enough to draw tears from a stone.

What! rob a poor man of his glass,
And teach him to read and to write!
What! save him from being an ass!—
'Tis nothing but malice and spite.

What! rob a pooor man of his ale,
And prevent him from beating his wife,
From being locked up in a jail,
With penal employment for life!

What! rob a poor man of his beer,
And keep him from starving his child!
It makes one feel awfully queer,
And I'll thank you to draw it more mild.

Don't Do It, Ladies.

A most pernicious custom prevails in many places in California, as well as in other States, with respect to which, we would like to say a few words before it is too late. We refer to the practice of treating New Year's callers with egg-nog, wines, brandies, or any kind of intoxicating drinks. If there is no real friendliness in the calls, if young men tramp through the streets and ring at your doorbell for the sake of the drink they expect to receive, if egg-nog, wine, or brandy is the great attraction rather than yourself, your womanly dignity should resent the insult, and the deserved treatment at your hands would be to quietly point to the gate, bid them good morning and close the door. On the other hand, if a spirit of friendship to yourself brings them to you with good wishes on the first day of the New Year, they certainly deserve better treatment at your hands. We honor the hospitality that leads you so liberally to provide for the refreshment and entertainment of your guests. But we ask you to pause for a moment and consider whether intoxicants should have a place among these refreshments. Do not the stores and numerous markets of our little city furnish an ample supply without seeking the wine cellars? Is your way so hedged up that you cannot give expression to your hospitality without positive injury to those you call friends? Is it right to place temptation in the way of others? Is it right for you, ladies, to assist in awakening and feeding an appetite that will cause the downfall of its possessor?

Can you, in the name of friendship, introduce into the home of others the Barabbas that will despoil them of their possessions, swallowing up, piece by piece of their furniture, acre by acre of their farms, until it leaves them homeless and destitute.

More than this, a man may lose all his possessions, he may, by adverse circumstances, be turned out into the world, homeless and pennyless. But hope remains, the vigor of his manhood is unimpaired, his credit is good, for his sobriety and industry are a guarantee of success, as he takes hold upon the lower round of the ladder and commences the ascent again. But the insatiable monster into whose power you by this devilish custom have assisted in bringing him, robs him of his manhood, impairs his credit, incapacitates him for business and leaves him a helpless, hopeless, shattered wreck upon the shores of time.

It robs him of his possessions, it robs him of his manhood, and more terrible than all the rest, it works eternal ruin. For "no drunkard shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven"

60,000 during the past year in our own country have reeled into drunkard's graves, the victims of strong drink, many of them taking their first drink in our respectable homes, and from the hand of some fair temptress. In the name of the broken-hearted, sorrow-bowed mothers, whose sons have fallen, in the name of the weeping, care-worn wives whose husbands have been wrecked, in the name of the thousands of widows and orphans of the slain by strong drink, in the name of the God that rules above us and who has taught us to pray, "Lead us not into temptation," and has given us the golden rule, "Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you," I urge upon all the readers of this column to dispense with all that can intoxicate in the exercise of your generous hospitality; frown upon that custom that opens the way for the entrance of a multitude of evils. Begin the New Year right by refusing to be accessory to the crime of drunkard making.

Communication From Cacheville.

BRO. STUART—I have been informed that you were elected Editor of the Temperance department of our county papers and that you had requested a correspondence from each Lodge in this district; as Chief Templar of the Yolo Lodge, I would say. We are striving with some success, to keep the Yolo Lodge, and the cause of Temperance alive. Since I came to the place, about three months ago, there have been four initiated, taree joined by card, one withdrawn because he could not pursue his business (as he thought) and belong to the Lodge. We hope some good young Lady may pursuade him to think better of it, and come back. We greatly need the experience and influence of the many older persons of our community, in our Lodge. Many such there are here who are of unquestioned temperance habits, and some in the Christian Church, who doubtless do not realize that their example is against us, while they stand aloof from the Lodge. Many moderate, and even some immoderate drinkers are ready to say: If such person can live temperance lives out of the order, they can. They occupy much the same position as did the Presbyterian Deacons, who, were urged to sign the Washingtonian pledge, replied: I have lived a temperance life so far without signing a pledge, and think I can do the same the balance of my life. A man so drunk that he could scarcely stand, arose and stammered out the'—the'—them's my sentiments, zac—zac—zacly, Deacon. The Deacon cried out—"put down my name." Would that many might follow the Deacon's example, arranging themselves with the workers in the temperance cause. They can fight better in, than out of the ranks. E. A HAZEN.

Another Victory.

The Canada Casket reports under this head the result of an election in the county of Digby, Nova Scotia, on the adoption of the local option law. The vote stood 955 for adoption, 42 against. The major part of Nova Scotia has been under local option and prohibitory laws for a ogod many years, but this is the adoption of a new and more stringent Act. In 16 of 17 elections all but one have resulted by immense majorities in the death warrant of the infernal traffic in blood. This is the way people vote in a country where they have had an experience of the enormous advantages of extirpating the pauper and murder factories. Don't the wine-makers, distillers and brewers see the doom of their deadly art, or are they still blinded by their old boss owner?—Rescue.

Town and County Matters

Christmas.

The weather was decidedly against a thoroughly enjoyable time here. On Friday the rain poured down nearly all day, and toward evening it literally came down in torrents. Of course, the consequence was a fearful condition of streets, sidewalks and crossings, and when night came the few lamps on Main street were altogether inadequate to give light to the people en route to the places where Christmas exercises were to be held. Yet, notwithstanding all these disadvantages, the Congregational and Methodist churches were filled with men, women and children, assembled to participate in the exercises announced to take place.

The exercises of the M. E. Church on Friday evening were unusually interesting and well patronized. The decorations were both novel and unique, being a departure from the usual "Christmas Tree" and accompanying appointments. The rear end of the church building was arranged into a fairy temple, fourteen feet in depth, and reaching to the ceiling. The front of the temple was spanned by a beautiful arch, which was elaborately decorated and so arranged that the whole interior of the structure could be seen from every part of the house. An evergreen ladder, resting near the center of the temple, reached to its top and served the double purpose of containing many of the presents and affording St. Nick a means of descent from his mysterious entrance at the house top. The interior of the temple was covered with handsome presents, and illuminated with wax tapers so arranged as to give the whole a most beautiful appearance. The exercises consisted of a well rendered programme of choruses, solos, duetts and recitations by the members of the school, and the usual distribution of presents. It is needless to say that the little ones were happy, as every member of the school had been provided with a present from the school fund in addition to the provisions made by parents and friends.

Two beautifully decorated trees, richly loaded with presents for the children of the Sunday School, were to be seen at the Congregational Church. The opening exercises consisted of singing, recitations, etc., all of which, under the direction of Mr. Carl Gilbert and a lady Committee, passed off very pleasantly. Many valuable presents were delivered, Superintendent Gilbert coming in for a good share. The church was most tastefully decorated, and having been recently thoroughly renovated and newly calcimined, presented a very attractive appearance.

Christmas day broke cloudy and disagreeable; still hundreds of people could have been seen early on the streets and thronging the many shops where holiday goods were on exhibition, intent on making purchases of presents suitable to the season. The day passed quietly, nothing of any special note occurring.

In the evening the College Chapel was filled with people who came to witness the Christmas exercises of the Christian Sunday School. The decorations were tastefully arranged, and in place of the usual "Christmas Tree" a magnificent "Temple of Santa Claus" was arranged in the south end of the building, where were displayed in countless numbers articles of all descriptions, ostensibly to be delivered to the little folks, but we noticed that a number of adults were the recipients of rich and valuable presents. The audience, while waiting for the appearance of Santa Claus, were regaled with several appropriate and excellently rendered pieces of music by some of our local vocalists. The evening passed off pleasantly and apparently to the satisfaction of all who were present.

NOTES.

On Christmas night a family reunion was held at the residence of J. W. Freeman, Esq., where were present, besides the family, Major F. S. Freeman and family, Giles E. Freeman and family, Prof. R. P. Davidson and wife, George C. Grimes and wife, C. T. Bidwell and family, Mrs. Finley, sister of Major Freeman, Mrs. C. I. Smith, and Prof. J. I. McConnell and family. A beautiful tree, laden with presents, was arranged in the parlor, and the little folks—and the big ones too, for that matter—were made happy by being the recipients of testimonials appropriate to the time and place.

Frazer & Co. more than fully redeemed their promise to distribute a 2,000 lbs. beef to their customers, "free gratis." In fact, they yesterday gave away the choicest portions of no less than five beeves, and the DEMOCRAT came in for a fine, juicy roast, for which thanks are hereby tendered.

The credit for the success of the exercises at the Christian Church is largely due to Professor Martin and Mrs. Sue E. Grant, who were very active in the work of decoration and general arrangement.

During the day but little loud or boisterous conduct was indulged in by the "boys," and exceptionally few drunken men were seen about town.

Many of the saloons distributed egg nog and Tom and Jerry to their customers without stint, and at one or two places free lunches were spread.

About 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon a carriage team which was being driven by J. B. Pockman near the depot took right at a passing locomotive, and began to rear and plunge so that the pole of the vehicle dropped from the neck-yoke and fell to the ground. This still further frightened the animals, and, becoming unmanageable, they started off on a keen run. They had not gone very far, however, when the tongue caught and buried itself in the ground to a depth of six feet. The shock of the sudden stop threw the occupants of the carriage to the ground, but no one received any very serious injuries, although Mr. Pockman was considerably bruised, and ran a very narrow escape with his life. Besides the breaking of the carriage pole the damage to the vehicle was nominal.

Woodland.

[Christmas Bee.]

This metropolis and county seat of Yolo is pleasantly situated near the central portion of the county, twenty miles northeast of Sacramento. By the census it was found to contain about 2,400 inhabitants, and among towns of no greater population, it contains an undue proportion of wealthy and well-to-do citizens. From an educational, social and business standpoint, Woodland is exceptionally favored. Besides the collegiate institution above mentioned, there are several private schools, and the public school in all the departments has a model of system and thoroughness in teaching the young idea. Socially, and in point of manners, morals and general intelligence, the people of our neighboring little city compare favorably with those of any locality in the State. As a business point she is excelled by no other interior town in California. And this is not to be wondered at when we consider the many advantages which surround her. Situated in the center of one of the finest agricultural districts in the State, and necessarily the commercial center of the entire county, it is not surprising that within the limits of the town not one business house, and but very few residences are without tenants. The merchants have had an exceptionally prosperous year, and are very sanguine of the future. With broad, smooth, well-paved streets, lined with fine business houses and elegant and costly residences, supplied with pure, clear soft water in abundance, and noted for superior sanitary advantages, Woodland cannot but be a very desirable place to make a home.

The popularity of Hall's Hair Renewer has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world. The examination of Geo. E. Landes for bigamy was to be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock A.M. The testimony for the prosecution is all in, and several witnesses for the defense were examined yesterday. A motion on the part of defendant's counsel to discharge the prisoner on the ground that if the woman calling herself Mrs. Landes is his wife her testimony could not be received, and that to establish such relations between her and defendant she must testify, was overruled by the Judge, who stated that he would hear all the testimony there was to offer, and then take sufficient time to fully examine the testimony and law on the subject.

Whenever you come to town with a team be sure and tie them so that either the horses or the wagon will blockade the cross-walk. Then people who have to pass that way will have to go around in the mud, and this, of course, makes fun for the lookers on. This notice only applies to a few, as most of those who drive teams to town seem to understand already the importance of leaving their wagon so as to blockade the cross-walks.

J. I. Eaton has just received another lot of those extra fine hams.

Many of our local shooters are in the habit of throwing away "spoonbill" ducks when they kill them, under the mistaken notion that they are not a good table fowl. Ornithologists, on the contrary, class them among the choicest of ducks, and we happen to know that in many parts of the East they are held in great favor with the sportsmen and epicures. Therefore, when next you kill a "spoonbill," or shoveller (spatula clypeata) don't throw it away, but give it to somebody who has sense enough to know what a good duck is.—Bee.

If you want the best plow on the Coast, go to the new Agricultural House under Washington Hall.

The Republican says the talk (probably referring to what the DEMOCRAT has said) about rival gas works, is all bosh. Perhaps the electric light, which the aforesaid "talk" may result in, will suit our contemporary better.

C. & W. E. Shellenberger are agents for the celebrated "Hollow Tooth Harrow."

George Coulter of Yolo while gathering driftwood near the railroad bridge on Friday upset his boat and narrowly escaped being drowned. He tried to reach some piles in the vicinity, but the current prevented, and but for a boat which fortunately was passing and rescued him he would probably not have gained the shore.

The viniculturists of California who have been hoping that the winged form of the phylloxera would not develop upon this coast have been grievously disappointed, as the winged form of this insect has been found in Sonoma county. Land which can be flooded with water in winter will now be at a premium for vineyards.

Many farmers injure their farm implements more by exposure to the weather than by the use on the farm. An implement which with good care would last twenty years, will, when exposed to the weather, become useless in five years or even less. A farm wagon which, with good usage, would last almost a lifetime, will last only a few years when exposed to the weather.

Several farms in the vicinity of Woodland and throughout Yolo county, from 40 acres upward, for sale at the Land Agency of W. M. Coward.

From conversations with several farmers who have tried Russell's Hollow Tooth Harrow we learn that it invariably gives perfect satisfaction, pulverizing the ground much better than any other harrow heretofore introduced, and going over from one-half to twice the ground with the same motive power attached. Messrs. Garoutte & McDonald, who have the exclusive right to sell these harrows in Yolo county, state that they have no trouble in disposing of them in localities where their superior qualities have been tested.

Past Master J. L. Simpson, assisted by N. Wyckoff, Marshal, on last Monday night installed the following officers of Woodland Lodge No. 156, F. and A. M., for the ensuing year: F. E. Baker, Master; W. Y. Browning, S. W.; S. B. Relyea, J. W.; T. P. Magee' Treasurer; J. K. Smith, Secretary; Humphrey Hicks, Sen. D.; J. A. Blake, Jun. D.; R. W. Browning and R. B. Johnson, Stewards; J. P. Bullock, Marshal; A. S. Armstrong, Tyler. After the installation exercises were over, a splendid collation was partaken of by the members and a large number of invited guests, and a very enjoyable time was experienced.

A notice announcing the marriage of Mr. I. R. Loranger, of Cottonwood, to Mary R. Smith, appeared in the DEMOCRAT some days ago, and now comes Mr. Loranger and most earnestly protests that the types have placed him in a false condition, as he certainly is not married to Mary R. Smith nor any other lady as far as he knows. The gentleman whom Justice Ruggles united in bonds of matrimony to Miss Smith, on the 18th day of December, was F. R. Loranger, son of the complainant, and the lady's initials are Mary F. and not R. as was published. We cheerfully make this correction, and hope to have the pleasure of chronicling the marriage of our friend I. R. before many months.

BORN.

In Woodland, Christmas Day, to the wife of L. Charmak, a fine, bouncing boy.

MARRIED.

At Reno, Dec. 26th, Daniel Reynolds to Mariam Brown, eldest daugher of C. A. Brown of this city.

At the residence of R. Clark, Woodland, Dec. 18th, by A. C. Ruggles, J. P., F. R. Loranger to Mary F. Smith, all of Yolo county.

DIED.

At Capay, Dec. 27th, Jesse A. Stollings, aged 24 years, 1 month and 12 days.

Mr. Stollings was a native of Clay county, Missouri, where his mother still resides. He came to Yolo county some four or 5 years ago, and learned the blacksmith trade at Capay. At this he continued to labor industriously as long as his failing health would admit. By his steady, industrious habits, and true manly worth, he won for himself the highest esteem of the community in which he lived. None spoke otherwise of him than in tones of praise. He was a member of the Christian Church, having joined that church at the time the State Meeting was held in Yolo county. He was also a member of the Good Templars order, and a member of the I. O. O. F.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. M. Stuart of Woodland under the auspices of the latter society. A large company followed the remains to their resting place, and there, under the shadow of the green hills they united in singing the "Sweet bye and bye," a hymn that carries the thoughts forward to the time of happy reunion with loved ones in a clime where there is no sickness or sorrow or death.

The Yolo Democrat

Thursday, December 30, 1880.

AN OLD STORY.

Fisherman John is brave and strong,
None more brave on the coast than he;
He owns a cottage and fishing smack
As snug as ever could be.
And, what is truer than I could wish,
Fisherman John loves me.

Often and often, when day is done,
With smiling lips and eager eyes
He comes to woo me; in every way
That a man may try he tries
To win me; but that he can never do,
Though he woo me till he dies.

Fisherman Jack is a poorer man;
He owns nor cottage nor fishing smack,
But a winning voice and smile are his,
And a manly grace. Alack!
It will not break my heart to tell
That I love Fisherman Jack.

He loves not me; but every night
He sits at the feet of Kate Mahon;
Never a heart has she made for him—
For she loves Fisherman John,
Who cares no more for love of hers
Than the sea he sails upon.

Often we wonder, do Kate and I,
That fate should cross us so cruelly,
We think of the lovers we do not love,
And dream what life would be,
If only Fisherman John loved her,
And Fisherman Jack loved me.

Positively Restores the Hearing, and is the Only Absolute Cure for Deafness Known.

This Oil is extracted from a peculiar species of small White Shark, caught in the Yellow Sea, known as Carcharodon Rondeletii. Every Chinese fisherman knows it. Its virtues as a restorative of hearing were discovered by a Buddhist Priest about the year 1410. Its cures were so numerous and many so seemingly miraculous, that the remedy was officially proclaimed over the entire Empire. Its use became so universal that for over 300 years no Deafness has existed among the Chinese people. Sent, charges prepaid, to any address at $1.00 per bottle.

Only Imported by HAYLOCK & CO., 7 Dey St., New York.

☞ SOLE AGENTS FOR AMERICA. ☜

Its virtues are unquestionable, and its curative character absolute, as the writer can personally testify, both from experience and observation.

Among the many readers of the Review in one part and another of the country, it is probable that numbers are afflicted with deafness, and to such it may be said: "Write at once to Haylock & Co., 7 Dey street, New York, enclosing $1, and you will receive by return a remedy that will enable you to hear like anybody else, and whose curative effects will be permanent. You will never regret doing so."—Editor of New York Mercantile Review, Sept. 25, 1880.

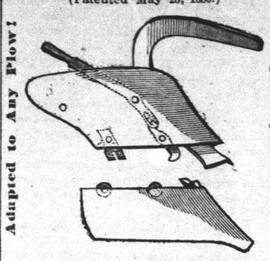
PATREY'S PLOW-SHARE FASTENER

(Patented May 25, 1880.)



By means of this Fastener, PLOW-SHARES are EASILY and QUICKLY REMOVED from the mold board. There are no BOLTS or NUTS to rust and wear loose. No tedious and vexatious delays in hunting after nuts and wrenches. There is simply

A LEVER ATTACHMENT

Which is thrown back, releasing the share when another can then be put in its place, the whole operation occupying but a few seconds.

Read the following Testimonials from those who have used the Fastener:

DUNNIGAN, CAL., Aug. 1, 1880.
J. P. Patrey, Esq.—Dear Sir—I have been using your patent for fastening plow shares for some time. It saves time, labor and money, and fastens the shares as firmly as if bolted.
Yours truly, M. T. EMMERT.

SPRING VALLEY, Colusa Co., March 18, 1880.
Mr. J. P. Patrey—Dear Sir—I have used your Plow-share Fastener on a Eureka Plow, breaking up new ground in heavy timber. I frequently had to hitch the team to the rear of the plow in order to release it from the stumps and rocks, and have always found the Fastener all right. Hereafter I shall use it on all my plows. J. W. JOHNS.

DUNNIGAN, Yolo Co., Cal., Jan. 26, 1880.
Mr. J. P. Patrey—Dear Sir—Your "Plow-Share Fastener" recommends itself, as no bolts are used. I can change my plow-points in a few seconds. J. A. BYERS.

DUNNIGAN, Yolo Co., Cal., July 31, 1880.
J. P. Patrey, Esq.—Dear Sir—In answer to yours of a few days since, inquiring of the Plow-Share Fastener, I wish to state that I have used the four sent me with perfect success, and consider them a very great saving in time, and would most heartily recommend them to all farmers. I will order one for each plow before the plow season begins.
Most respectfully, B. B. GLASCOCK.
